

ABOUT SANDRA CADAVID

Established in 2011, Sandra Cadavid is a socially-responsible luxury handbag and jewelry company. Acclaimed by celebrities, media outlets, and globally-conscious consumers alike, Sandra Cadavid designs and produces high-quality goods using only the best materials locally sourced in Sandra's home country, Colombia. Our products feature high-quality, alta gamma leather and vegetable-based dyes so that we protect both our environment and our artisans. Our handmade jewelry and handbag hardware features 24k gold, 24k rose gold, sterling silver, or vintage plating. We are humbled to have been featured by The Today Show, Glamour, InStyle, Vogue South America, Good Housekeeping, LA Fashion and more. In addition, the famed Henri Bendel featured Sandra Cadavid in a trunk show at its flagship store in New York City.

Sandra Cadavid is also dedicated to supporting women. We actively hire women who have faced tragic, senseless violence in Cali, one of the most dangerous cities in Colombia. We are proud that these women are among our team members and serve as the assistants to our artisans. In addition, Sandra Cadavid regularly partners with organizations that help to further causes in which we believe.
